CONFECTIONERY IMPROVEMENTS

Holmes Bros., Main street confectioners, have made some very material and beneficial changes at their place of business, resulting in making that already popular place considerably more attractive. Not content with just brightening and furnishing up their place in honor of the ushering in of spring, they have had new flooring placed in, while the interior has been so improved as to give it an appearance that is attractive indeed. Experts were put to work with instructions to decorate the interior to the very best advantage and this has been done to a nicety. Two hundred dollars or more has been spent by the Messrs. Holmes in order that they might make their place as attractive as possible for their numerous customers, and their enterprise and accentuated invitation for business will no doubt receive a hearty practical response.

PREPARING NAVY FOR EMERGENCY

Merchant Ships Which Would Be Available Are Under Observation and Plans.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, March 18.—Rear Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations, Thursday told the house naval committee in minute details of preliminary work of preparing the navy for an emergency.

The naval militia, he said, is being brought into closer touch with navy ideas, merchant vessels are under inspection to determine what private craft would be immediately available in case of war and each naval bureau is informed exactly as to what it would have to do with these vessels. Repairs which would make them effective would last from a few days to several weeks, he added.

The navy is working, Admiral Benson testified, on mobilization, organization strategy and supply plans for quick action should it become necessary to strike promptly.

British Reply Being Prepared.

Ambassador Page at London cabled that the British foreign office is preparing its reply to the inquiry of the United States on the recent stopping of the American liner China near Shanghai by a British warship and the removal of thirty-eight Austrians, Germans and Turks. Mr. Page did not indicate its nature but it is believed a question of whether the China was in British territorial waters or on the high seas is one of the issues involved.

"DIMPLES."

In "Dimples" little Mary Miles Minter has a role admirably suited to her distinctive charms and notable dramatic gifts, and affords her the opportunity to display her marvelous versatility. This elaborate Metro screen play will be presented here at the Queen tonight and promises to be one of the noteworthy productions of the season. Miss Minter is surrounded by an unusually strong cast, headed by Thomas J. Carrigan, and including Peggy Hopkins, William Cowper, Ferd Tidmarsh, Harry Ford, Mae de Metz and others. The story of "Dimples" is an exceedingly interesting one of romance, love and finance and carries a strong human appeal.

"I forgot myself and spoke angrily to my wife," remarked Mr. Meekton. "Did she resent it?" "For a moment. But Henrietta is a fair-minded woman. After she thought it over she shook hands with me and congratulated me on my bravery."—Washington Star.
